

Slept on the parlor sofa. Late for breakfast. Papa at home. Reading the Sun during the morning. After dinner Billie O'Gorman hired row boat. George Will and I went fishing. George seasick and landed. Fished off Fort Lafayette. Poor luck. Finished letter to Haldeman. Short for want of news. Intended to have read Kent but did not do so. Letter from Bayard. Quiet evening. Played a game of billiards. Passed Belle and Ida Shaw on my way up to Benjamin's. Costello here. Pleasant day.

FRIDAY, 7.

High wind all day. Very stormy all night. Papa came home about eleven. Raining hard. Mary and Mazie at Kerstins. Papa went after them. Angry at their thoughtlessness. They had not heard the storm and were unconscious of the flight of time. Letter received from E. McCabe of Brooklyn. Wrote letter to Aunt Jim. Resolved to get up on the morrow and send it off. Reading Kent. Think it will be interesting. I can not sufficiently fix my attention on what the author says.

Saturday, ~~FRIDAY, 29~~ 8.

Raining. As usual late ^{to leave} in bed. Too late to mail Aunt Jim's letter or rather my letter to Aunt Jim. Our club was to have played in Elizabeth but it is raining all day so there will be no game. Second Saturday that rain has spoiled our chances to play ball. Answered E. J. McCabe's letter. Tried to invent puzzles but failed. Fixed things a little in Papa's room. Barney Williams and Mary Bevin's here. Papa at home all day. Mamma and He to supper at Williams'.

Sunday, 9.

Leon Beland and Uncle William from Newark. Stayed all night. Disagreeable day. Horse taken away so we had all to go to Brooklyn. Nice dinner and pleasant and interesting conversation. Resolved to take notes of it but did not.

Monday, 10.

Gen. Bourke and Mr. O'Neil called in evening. General O'Neil and myself slept in one of Young's tents. Rained. Very novel in the tent. Hearing the rain falling all around and yet not touching you. Saw a game of ball. Nameless 5- Chelsea 11.

Tuesday, SATURDAY, 30-11.

Rose earlier than usual. Bourke O'Neil and myself bathed. Had breakfast at the Hotel. We ordered beefsteaks and they brought us a plate: on it three small pieces of dubious steak. To our house. Bourke and O'Neil left about five or six.

Wednesday, 12.

Papa brought ~~me two letters from Bayard and John V. to mail~~ letter to Aunt Jim. Received letter from Aunt Jim. She and Uncle are well.

Thursday, 13.

Nameless beat Arlington's. Received letters from Bayard John V. and Aunt Jim. Aunt J. and Uncle are well.

Friday, 14.

Papa home. Wrote to John V. Reading Kent.

Saturday, 15.

To Mass. To Nameless Club Rooms. Saw Bayard and Dick. Both looking remarkably well. To Prospect Park Grounds. Disappointed no ball game for the Union. Saw game between Nassau 6 and Amity 7. Back to city. To Club Rooms again. Bayard and Dick not in.
